Steve!
 Hey! I guess it's the end of another boring year of school. I was fun having class with you in my typing class this year. I know you were in love with skinny Mrs. Addy. Good luck next year. I don't know if I'll see you anymore cause I might move to Phoenix this summer. Stay sweet and have a fun summer. Your friend Ricki '91

Life in the desert can cause one to do many strange things.

WATER has always played an important part in the desert. The Gila used to run full, but now it is dry. The river has been dammed so that it may be useful to the farmers

Here,

A very dear friend of mine I hope
I see you over the summer. He had a great time with you in my English
Class

Coolidge High School added many new facilities to meet the needs of the community.

1. The first part of the text discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions, including sales, purchases, and expenses. It emphasizes that this is crucial for determining the correct taxable income and for providing a clear audit trail.

Working towards an exciting year, the freshmen showed spirit through actively participating in events throughout the year. They supported their teams with great enthusiasm and sportsmanship, by attending the sports activities, and pep assemblies.

Every year, it is a tradition for freshmen to paint C Mountain. Many freshmen participated in this, and enjoyed painting the C.

Also, the freshmen were welcomed to high school by a dance sponsored by the sophomores.

Sophomores began their year with an unexpected surprise. At halftime during Homecoming night at Friday night's game the Sophomore float "Bears Are Dynamite" caught on fire. It was quickly extinguished, and no damage was done. In spite of the mishap, the float won third place. Attendants Kim Rowe and Phillip Montijo represented the Sophomore class.

As the Sophomores entered their second year, they had their school days filled with Freak Week, Western Week, Homecoming and the Sophomore Welcome Dance that was held in November, where the Freshmen were admitted free. As a money making project they sold snowcones in the breezeway for a week. With the support of their sponsors, Mrs. Claussen and Mr. Folley, the Sophomores had a successful year.

Juniors started the year off right by placing first in float competition during Homecoming. Operating the snack bar at the varsity and j v football games was another way in which Juniors contributed to CHS.

As usual the Juniors sponsored the Junior-Senior prom. Using the theme "Life is a Merry-go-Round" there was a life-sized Merry-go-round for prom pictures. The carnival theme was furthered by the idea of clowns for cups, napkins, and helium filled balloons. The prom was held at CAC on April 16 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

After four long years of struggle, the Class of '77 was finally ready for graduation. Within the last few years many talents and abilities had been required by each member. Some members professed themselves in science, math, and English, while others learned the arts of hall walking and truancy. All in all the Senior class was proud of its achievements.

The apple of the seniors' eye was the float they constructed for Homecoming 1976. Hours of preparations with the leadership of Preston Holland, the Senior Class President, resulted in a beautiful construction of chicken wire, paper mache, and napkins. With the theme "Stomp the Redcoats" and construction of a large, perfectly proportioned tennis shoe, they were placed second!

frosh and j.v. bounce to victory

The Freshmen and J V. basketball teams had another successful season. Under the guidance of Larry Delbridge, Freshmen coach, and Dick Maynes, J V. Coach, the teams met their opponents well prepared

Mr. Delbridge said, "All in all we had a good year, the team plays well together, and we didn't have any selfish playing." Defense was stressed this season according to Mr. Delbridge

Mr. Maynes said, "The team lacks height, and there was a lack of concentration not only at games, but at practices as well. If the J V. players expect to play Var., that is one thing they have to improve on."

Both coaches saw quite a few prospective Varsity players

This year's Coolidge Bears Varsity Basketball Team had to follow last year's number one team, and the team knew that all along. The team handled the pressure quite well. The Bears consisted of six seniors, four juniors, one sophomore, and one freshman. Coach Partain said the team was young, with not much experience, but their goal was the same.

Practices for basketball started for the Coolidge Bears on November first. Coolidge hosted and won the Coolidge Invitational Christmas Tournament. Senior Larry Brown was named most Valuable player of that tournament. The Bears were rated number one in the state for Class A.

The girls basketball team, coached by Mrs. A. L. Smith, won the state championship. The team consists of 12 players and 2 coaches. The players are: (from left to right) Mary Smith, Jane Doe, Susan Brown, Betty White, Mary Black, Jane Green, Susan Red, Betty Blue, Mary Yellow, Jane Purple, Susan Pink, and Betty Orange. The coaches are Mrs. A. L. Smith and Mr. J. B. Jones.

Now starts the season with a bang. The girls basketball team is off to a good start.

Our returning 1976 Class A Girls' Basketball Champions took on another victorious season. Seven of this year's team members are returning players, including Dorene Jordan and Zaira Gonzales who were selected to the All State Tournament Team.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Beverly Fowler, who is entering her second year of basketball coaching, the team did an outstanding job.

1. Two opposing players attempt to block Dorene Jordan's shot. 2. The team shows their athletic ability.

bears post a 4—6 season

The Coolidge Bears Varsity football team was under a new coach this year. Mr. Bollhauve took the job as head coach and Mr. Delbridge as the defensive coach. Coolidge started the season off with a victory over Ray 25 to 27. Three straight defeats to Florence, 29 to 25, Gilbert 30 to 7, and Gerard, 25 to 22 brought the Bears back on the winning track with victories over Bisbee, 29 to 13, Dysart, 29 to 14, and Miami, 26 to 18. Coolidge then had a tough loss to Mountain View 28 to 14.

1. Jim Harrison picks up a first down after catching the ball from Phillip Montijo. 2. Virgil Jordan breaks the line for good yardage. 3. Alvin Moore breaks away to go for a touchdown.

1. Aye Moore progresses to catch the ball for a run back. 2. The offensive line pens a hole for Aye Moore to pick up a first down. 3. Tony Fox and Ed Morgan head for the end zone during OHSAA's offense.

This year with the many girls who participated in volleyball, it was also possible to have a JV Team. Although there were only six letterpersons returning, both teams worked hard for a winning season under the coaching of Miss Deborah Dosh. Though the team didn't surpass their last year's record, they still had a good season.

After completing four years of high school, the ten top seniors were finally selected from the graduating class. Their honors were based on achieving the highest scholastic ratings in their class.

These ten seniors were recognized for the outstanding work they did during their school years.

Linda Jones became the winner of the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award. She was given a test which evaluated her knowledge of homemaking in which she scored the highest.

This year's winner of the Daughter of American Revolution Citizenship Award was won by Skip Cole. Skip was selected for this award for the help and leadership he has given to the school and community.

Chosen for the Baush and Lomb Science Award was Marie Lewis. During her four years of high school, she showed outstanding science achievements.

Fairy Jordon won the title of Miss Black Pinal County. She went on to compete in the Miss Black Arizona and placed first runner-up in the pageant.

Terri Skousen, Theresa Behrens, Bobbi Bowen and Kim Taft are the Girls' State Representatives

Four girls wandered the halls of CHS last April in nightgowns and robes. These girls had been chosen as the Girls' State Representatives from CHS. Theresa Behrens and Bobbi Bowen traveled to Tucson for a one week's stay in a comfortable room in one of the dormitories at the University of Arizona. They competed for city, county and state offices while learning about government. Terri Skousen and Kim Taft acted as alternates in Coolidge.

Six boys were selected to represent Coolidge High School at Boys' State in Flagstaff. Curtis Kempton, Skip Cole, Kevin McHugh, and Phillip Terrell enjoyed all the luxuries of Old Main and Taylor halls. Skip Cole ran for Supreme Court Judge in the general election but failed to capture the title. Kevin received senatorship, and Curtis gained the job of county assessor. Larry Brown was unable to attend the convention, so Phil Terrell filled in for him. Gene McLemore moved to Coolidge in September. He attended Boys' State in Oklahoma.

"Ignorance is bliss," so says Skip Cole, Student Body President at the opening assembly this year, sponsored by the Student Council. He stressed the importance of getting involved in Student activities this year. After this was said, Council members performed a "Jaws" chant.

Homecoming Week, Freak Week, Twirp Week, and Western Week were all well prepared by the Council. The Homecoming Week parade, an assembly, and half time activities were also well planned by the Council and showed precision timing.

The Council tried to help the Freshmen adjust to High School life with the Welcome dance and painting of "C" Mountain. A privilege was bestowed upon the Council by the administration, with an invitation for Council members to participate in the North Central Evaluation.

Members took care of the Marquee board, and helped with the Student of the Month Program. Elections were held in the Spring. Over all the executive members showed strong leadership abilities. Roxanne Hiscox, Publicity Director, was replaced by Scott Sipes at the end of the 1st semester. All the members of the Student Council tried their best to represent the students in their needs and wants.

homecoming leaves memories

This year's Homecoming Week was filled with activities ranging from float building to crowning our 1976 Homecoming King and Queen, who were Fairy Jordon and Eddie Queen. Class members spent hours during the week after school rushing to finish their float by Friday. On Friday, Homecoming night, the floats were judged, and the number one winning float was the Junior class, "Let's Fly to Victory." During this week the school's breezeway was filled with events such as Squirt Gun Squirt Off, Find Your Noise, Egg Ride Race, Volkswagon Stuff, and Truck Decoration.

The activities continued Friday afternoon in a parade and Snake Dance to San Carlos Park where the pep assembly was held. The week ended Friday night with a game between Gilbert and the crowning of the Homecoming King and Queen.

summer brings new experiences

Last summer many people were busy traveling, learning, and having a good time

Sally Bollhauve, Carol Wuertz, and Stephanie Tripp along with Mary Fran Rosborough went to Europe with the Foreign Study League. They visited England, France, West Germany, Austria, Italy, and Spain. They bought many souvenirs, learned of some foreign customs, and met many people in the countries they visited.

Lucy Platt and Phil Terrell went to the Publication Camp in Flagstaff at NAU. They learned new journalistic skills, how to get along with new people, and useful skills relating to yearbook or journalism.

Bobbi Bowen, Curtis Kempton, Jeanie Martin, and Scott Sipes attended band camp in Flagstaff. They learned more about their instruments and music. Along with improving concert performances, the group enjoyed playing volleyball.

Art Buys, Junior Solomon, Scott Sipes, and Mr. Partain went to basketball camp. They were taught many basketball skills to help improve their game.

At band camp, Scott Sipes played the electric guitar, Bobbi Bowen played the oboe, and Curtis Kempton played the baritone.

Lucy Platt and Phil Terrell wear the T-shirts they bought at Publication Workshop. "Good Times" was the newspaper at the camp.

Stephanie Tripp, Carol Wuertz, and Sally Bollhauve display the T-shirts they bought during their visit to Europe.

After a couple of years the Mexican American Culture Club reorganized. With the help of the club's sponsor, Mrs. Claussen, the club did well throughout the year. Even though the club started late, many activities were accomplished.

The club earned money by having bakesales and selling Santa Claus lollipops. A membership party was held in the latter part of the year.

The highlight of the club was the Cinco de Mayo Assembly, which was held in early May. This assembly consisted of Mexican music played by a band from out of town and our own school band. Dancing was done by Casa Grande and CHS students, and speeches were given by special guests.

The Future Business Leaders of America was headed by Sponsors Eric Batchelor and Larry Stafford. The president was Garth Mikles, Vice Pres., Curtis Kempton. Secretaries, Nancy Sego and Lisa Ross; Treasurer Jill Scott, and Parliamentarian, Shay Meadows. The club was involved in quite a few activities. At the beginning of the year, they had an initiation party. They went to Sam's Pizza for supper and then to Marty's Roller Rink. Later that year, they took a trip to the Valley National Bank Computer Center. Afterwards they visited Metro-Center. The club also worked on the March of Dimes Walk-a-thon. For a money raising project, the FBLA sponsored a snack bar during basketball season. They were assisted by Bear Tracks.

This year's FHA started off with a picnic in San Carlos Park. The initiation gathered many new members as well as the old members. Along with the new members is Ed Lohr, the first male member to enter FHA. He is also the club's treasurer, along with Vickie Williams as President, Maria Valencia, Vice President, Debbie Stinson, Secretary, Karla Chitwood, Historian, and Crystal Bradford, Publicity Chairman. Under the guidance of sponsor Mrs. Murray, this year's FHA was a success.

The students of Mrs. Murray's Bachelor Survival classes learned the art of homemaking. They started the year off with cooking. They studied food nutrition, how to plan meals, and prepare foods. One of the highlights of class was the Thanksgiving dinner the students prepared for the faculty.

Second semester, basic sewing skills were taught along with macrame and stitchery. The students learned different types of homemaking skills that they can carry over into their daily lives.

Working in their group, Fernando Felix, Jose Aguayo, and Darrell Jordon display how easy it is to make a casserole. 2 Mike King and Cecil Jackson carefully select the cooking utensils needed for their next cooking lesson. 3 Cooking chefs Rudy Aguirre and Shane Blakeman, exhibit their techniques in preparing a meal.

Entering its second year, Freak Week became a Halloween tradition at CHS. Student Council arranged various activities to fill this week.

Monday started off with an arm pit water balloon relay. Some contestants ended up soaking wet. The frozen orange pass was held Tuesday. In this event, contestants struggled to pass frozen oranges with necks. Many succeeded in doing it well. Wednesday's activity was really a messy and sticky one, "The Whipped Lifesaver." A lifesaver was put at the bottom of a pie pan and filled with whipped cream. Contestants had to eat their way through the whipped cream to get to the lifesaver. Thursday's pumpkin carving showed many artistic talents from smiling pumpkins to horrible faces. Friday's most horrible face and best costume was met with an enthusiastic student body and faculty.

Freak Week ended Friday night with a football game against Mountain View.

The idea worked out very well, and Mrs. Ashby is considering using it next year. A few Bear Tracks staff members attended the AIPA Convention on October 2, 1976. Also they participated in the Fine Arts Banquet.

The CHS Drama Club presented "Dear Phoebe" for the fall play this year. The play was a new experience for most of the cast, who had no previous acting experience.

The play itself was a comedy murder mystery by James Reach. It had many interesting characters including an eccentric old lady, a chantonsey, a gangster, a hit lady, and a lady sports writer. It had chase scenes, disguises, a murder, and a happy ending.

The set for the play was one of the most complicated ever used at CHS. Besides new flats, most of the furniture used had to be built from scratch.

The 1976 Drama Club began the year with the all school production of "Dear Patsy" a murder mystery about a newspaper office. The play was well performed and well received. Drama class gave some of the people new to theater the experience and confidence necessary to make the play a success. Members of Drama Club also enriched the production with their work on technical and stage crews.

The International Thespian Society began its third successful year by initiating nineteen new members. The troupe also went to CAC to watch rehearsals for a college production and went to see a musical at Grady Gammage Auditorium.

The third Annual Fine Arts Banquet was a fantastic success with members of Bear Tracks, Yearbook, Band, Speech, and the Music and Drama departments presenting and receiving awards.

Speech class was more than just fun; it was an experience. Students not only learned how to present a speech but how to hold and keep an audience interested. The class presented many kinds of speeches. Experiences, pet peeves, demonstrations, and heckling were often subjects of the speeches. As usual after dinner speeches were very popular. The class presented radio programs on KCKY and programs over the school P. A. system. Speech presentations played an important part at the third Annual Fine Arts Banquet.

They sold booster ribbons and handled the snack bar during the wrestling season. Also t-shirts were sold as one of their money making projects.

Black Awareness was re-organized and revitalized this year under the guidance of a new sponsor and four energetic officers. Advising the group was head sponsor Mr. Jim Stevens with his able assistant Miss Dorothy Street

The club raised money by bake sales, a car wash, and a turkey raffle. Members showed their pride by wearing "Black Awareness" tee-shirts. During Christmas a can food drive for a needy family was held. The fashion show held the last week of January, was a big success. Eight members performed a dance skit during a pep assembly.

reading brings knowledge

The reading room is composed of teachers and students who work hard. There are two programs in use in the reading room. The Title I program is for students who have a reading disability that causes them to be at least two years behind their class. The migrant program is for those students who either have a high or low reading level. They are students who have moved in from other schools. Because of family mobility these students don't have the opportunity to keep up with their reading classes. There are also some migrant students who are ahead of their classes so they use tapes and read books that increase their reading ability.

creativity lingers in chs

The Art Department is a popular elective at C H S. Classes offered in this department consists of Beginning and Advanced Drawing and Painting, Silversmithing, and Arts and Crafts I and II. Macrame, decopodge, and leatherwork are only a few skills the Arts and Crafts class did this year. In Decorative Arts I and II, the students embroidered, knitted, quilted, made stuffed animals, and other handicrafts.

1. Edna Aguayo relaxes as she sands a woodblock. 2. Cherri Faltner works on a decorative arts project. 3. Lauri Ford happily works at her decoupage. 4. Lisa Grott concentrates on making a pillow. 5. Estella Perea and Hopi Rojas embroider their own designs.

1 Jean Sibley and Maxine Murphree were the two dedicated ladies who operated the snackbar. With the help of some girls, they provided food at the noon hour. The food was good and reasonably priced. With the cooperation of the student body and faculty at Coolidge High School, they were able to continue their services.

1 Jamie Martin makes change for a customer. 2 Maxine Murphree and Jean Sibley head up the snackbar crew. 3 Larry Brown and Brenda Stack impatiently await the arrival of their lunches. 4 Frank Piccirilli and Kurt Wagner order their food. 5 Sandra Cooper and Katy Sager serve cokes. 6 Students wait to place their orders.

choruses brighten the day with song

The choruses spent another year entertaining CHS students with their singing. There are three choruses, Honor Girls' Glee, Girls' Glee, and Boys' Glee. To raise money for new uniforms, the Honor's Glee sold cheese crocks. The Girls' and Boys' Glee sold candy.

The choruses sang at the state fair and at the ATPC. They also gave a Christmas concert for students and a concert for senior citizens.

marching, they are playing in the stands, letting the team know that they have plenty of support

The band this year had 52 marching musicians. Work was one of the main ingredients for a band to sound and look good. Marching was not the only activity the band accomplished. They also attended festivals during the band's concert season. In the late part of January a few members of the band participated in regional auditions with high hopes of making the regional band or orchestra. Last year, four members from Coolidge High School Band made Regionals three in band, and one in the Orchestra. They were Richard Bowen, Jeanie Martin, Vicki Williams in the band and Lisa Powell in the Orchestra. Over the summer, there was a music camp in Flagstaff, Arizona. Seven members of our high school band attended this music camp.

At the time, the group was with the band, and I was standing in the line. They were all wearing the same

Mat Maids lead an enthusiastic Coolidge audience in a cheer for the wrestlers

The CHS Mat Maids spent another year actively supporting the wrestlers. The girls worked hard cheering them on, and their spirit helped win many a match. Miss Carol Sobkoviak helped the girls learn new cheers and decide on uniforms. Mat Maids for 1976—77 were: Cathy Crawford, Patricia Wright, Michelle Ludwig, Sandi Chitwood, Denise Murphree, Lisa England, LeAnne Mauldin, Rachel Arredondo, Kelly Taft, Crystal Pate

This year's Twirlers worked hard all year. It started with marching and practicing an hour in the morning with the band. Along with this practice, they were in the sixth hour Athletic P.E. class. All four twirlers went to camp this past summer in Flagstaff for one week. At camp they rated first in high strut and composition.

chs poms hold the key to spirit

It was a busy year packed with enthusiasm for the Pom Pon Girls at C H S. Their season started in the summer as they prepared dances for competition at Camp of Champs at N A U. At camp they learned dances, skits, and won several awards: the Super-Star Squad Award, two Red Ribbons, and several Blue and Red Ribbons for individual competition.

Every year, the Pom Pon and Cheer leaders work together to put on the Annual Dinner. The money raised from this dinner was used to buy new uniforms.

During football season, the Pom line was a part of the marching band; they performed with the band at pre-game and half-time shows, attended Band Day, and other band activities. Basketball season set the Pom Pon Girls on their own, where hours of practice kept time working to regain victory for their basketball team.

1 The Freshman cheer leaders for this year are from top to bottom Cindy Chavez, Becky Ballard, Mary Lee Miller, and Isabel Gomez. 2 The cheerleading life is no easy game. It's hard work and much effort. 3 Taking a step in the correct direction is one way to be victorious over any rival team.

This was the first year these four girls have cheered together. Cheerleading was a good experience for the girls, and they really did build the team and class spirit. The girls and the other cheerleaders sponsored a banquet. It was a job well done. The Freshmen cheerleaders traveled to the away games to keep the spirit going all the time. The smiles that shined off the cheerleaders' faces would keep anyone going, even when it meant running over a player from the other team.

Varsity Cheerleaders started another spirit-packed year by attending NCA Cheerleading Camp at NAU held during the summer. At camp they learned skits, stunts, cheers, and also got advice on how to create enthusiasm among the student body.

Cheerleaders, Pom-Pom Girls, and Mascots worked together on the annual dinner held to raise money for uniforms. The dinner turned out a success.

Working as a team, these girls made posters for games, held lunches for the football and basketball teams, took on their regular job of cheering at all varsity games, and promoted spirit at pep rallies.

1 Debra Muldrow yells for a touchdown. 2 Cindy Harper grins as she thinks of a cheer. 3 Ragie Morrow shows spirit while the game moves on. 4 The squad poses for a picture in spirit-day uniforms. The Stranger

This year the CHS spring play was "The Passing of the Third Floor Back." A change from the usual comedy, the play, written in 1908, offered a challenge to the cast. Only three cast members had any acting experience, and the new actors will provide a boost to the Drama department. Many of the cast members who had been working on "The Crucible" before were in rehearsal for twelve weeks before presenting the play on April 29 and 30. The cast played to limited but responsive audiences.

The play was set in a boarding house. There were an assortment of shifty characters who were changed by the presence of The Stranger.

1 "I'd rather have it before you're finished with it. If you're sure you can spare it." 2 Miss Kite primps while no one is watching. 3 "You're betting on the chance of my accepting Mr. Wright's clammy and generally speaking, not overclean hand." 4 "Delighted, I'm sure. The dear child will be delighted." 5 "Perhaps we are not good enough company for the cousin of a baronet." 6 "How do you know I'm not a cheat?"
